CLASS POEM

Class of nineteen forty-five,
Your school days now are done,
And in your store of memories
Are pleasure, work, and fun.

You've come this far together,
Class of forty-five,
Now some of you are off to war
To keep liberty alive.

From out of the class of forty-five
Comes the future of the land,
For it is the youth of the nation
That will deliver from war's hand.

Good luck to you, class of forty-five,
Good health, good hopes, good cheer.
May happiness and wealth be yours
Through every coming year.

PEGGY SWINDELL, Class Poet.

CLASS HISTORY

It was the middle of September 1940, that the good ship Washington High School stood at anchor at the wharf of a new school year. It was the same ship which had carried many of our brothers, sisters and comrades to the safe harbor in the Land of Great Wisdom.

As the ship stood at anchor on that eventful day, the passengers began to arrive; and as I was the first to be enrolled upon the list of passengers, I was asked to do the important task of writing the log of the voyage—the voyage that, even then, we realized was to be the most important of our lives. I had scarcely finished the task of placing my signature upon the ship's register when a companion joined me—one who had sailed with me through the eighth grade, and then another and another, until they ceased to come. There was much shouting and cheering as the ship slowly but firmly pulled away from port into the wide Sea of Learning.

We were naturally very enthusiastic and asked many eager questions of our captain, as to the incidents of the voyage and to its probable length. We were assured that if we were persevering and diligent in our duties that we should easily reach our destination at the end of four years. We soon became acquainted with our fellow passengers and to feel very much at home with our Pilot, Captain and Stewardess. Our fears of shipwreck were entirely wiped away in the assurance that we were in hands of some very able seamen.

As in all voyages, there were a few cases of seasickness and various ones were tempted to throw up Algebra, Spanish and other disagreeable dishes. However the stewardess assured us calmly but firmly that we would only have to consume these indigestibles over and over again until they were perfectly assimilated, so most of us made a brave effort to hold them down.

The Captain told us that the voyage of High School Life was in reality to be over four seas, so closely joined that they seemed to be only one vast body of water. Much to our deep regret a number of our male passengers found it necessary to leave us—some during the third sea and others during the fourth sea.

It would take too long to read the complete log of this eventful voyage. It would be interesting to tell the many delightful experiences, the many wonderful (?) lessons, the change in the passenger list at the various ports along the way, the parting from this one and then the welcoming of that one. But after all, it has but little vital significance except to ourselves, the eighty who remain to land in June at Commencement Wharf.

It has been a most wonderful voyage. Of course there was a little bad weather. The tides of our averages have continued to ebb and flow; the waves of mathematical problems have kept up their ceaseless motion; the billows of examination questions have tried their best to overwhelm us; but none of these disturbances succeeded. Somehow we have been able to procure the necessary passport at the entrance of each succeeding sea.

Byron, in one of his poems, writes:

"Roll on, thou deep and dark blue ocean, roll!"
Ten thousands fleets sweep over thee in vain."

But not so with the class of '45. We will go on writing new logs of adventure and discoveries, for while the Voyage of High School Life is at an end, the Voyage of Real Life is just beginning.

TILLIE RODGERS, Historian.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Class of 1945, in the town of Washington, the county of Beaufort, and the state of North Carolina, being in a good mental condition as usual, and in much better temper than usual, do hereby make this, our last will and testament, rendering void and of no avail any former will or wills that may have been previously made by us during a period of temporary optimism.

We have no specific directions to leave concerning our funeral, but we do hope that you will come prepared to praise as well as bury us, forgetting the trifling faults that may have been ours and remembering only our manifold and remarkable virtues.

We feel that our brilliant record and our unusual achievements will live after us, but not wishing to take any chances, we suggest that a tablet, on which shall be inscribed our several names and a few of our most astounding deeds, be purchased and placed in the auditorium of the school in a position where it will strike the eyes of all who enter.

Our school assets and all the belongings thereto, whether tangible or intangible, which at the time of our departure we declare ourselves sole owners of, do devise, bequeath and dispose thereof in the manner following:

Item 1—We give and bequeath to the Junior Class, our rightful heirs, our most important and valuable properties, viz., our self-satisfaction, our importance, and our wisdom, all of which we possessed in enormous quantities, and we hope said gifts will be of use in overcoming their present inertia.

Item 2—To the Junior Class we give, devise, and bequeath the proverbial Senior dignity and privileges, remembering especially the Senior Steps, whose sanctity we have so valiantly defended, a legacy which has been transmitted from Senior Class to Junior Class, "From the time whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary."

Item 3—To our good friends, the Sophomore Class, we leave our patience. It will be found useful as the only means by which they can endure the Juniors.

Item 4—We give and bequeath to the teachers our very kindest regards and our sincere gratitude for their unfailing kindness and aid.

Item 5—To our dear old school building itself, we leave the peaceful quiet caused by our absence, and any crumpled notes, wads of gum, or textbooks we may have left behind.

Item 6—To our principal we give and bequeath a sense of relief that we have at last been graduated.

Besides these bequests, we leave our best wishes to any and all who may desire them.

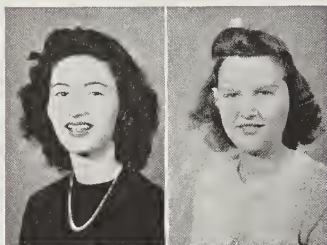

Finally, we do hereby name and appoint as the sole executor of this, our last will and testament, our class adviser, Miss Prudence Bazemore.

In testimony, we, the class of 1945, have to this our last will and testament set our hand and seal on this 4th day of June, in the year of 1945.

Testators: JEAN DUNSTON, HERBERT PASCHAL.

Witnesses: AL PHELPS, BETSY STANLEY, REVA TURNER.

Beta Club Carnival Is A Big Success

At a meeting during the first week of school the Junior-Senior Club of Washington High School unanimously elected Miss Carolyn Langston to serve as their new adviser for the coming year. The job is formidable indeed in having such a capable adviser but the two years of such a close number of years that was decided to postpone the election until ballots could be prepared. At this time Mr. Al Newberry spoke on the "Teen Age Club" which every one is so interested in at the present time. ### Beta Club Taps New Members

The Beta Club presented the 4th program Thursday, October 5, for purpose of pledging new members. The club filed in on either side the auditorium bearing Beta banners and took their seats on the stage. Invitations were held by Evelyn Ho-after which Billy Wagner, president, made a short talk congratulating and welcoming the new members. The pledges were tapped on the left shoulder following the custom of tapping knights in days of King Arthur and chivalry. As each person was tapped,

FOOTBALL

Although the Pam Pack did not win a majority of its games, the squad closed the season with one of the strongest teams in eastern North Carolina. The last game of the season with the New Bern Bears was a thriller with the Pack edging the visitors out by a seven to six score.

The squad maintained a fine spirit throughout the season and, considering the green material and late start, Coaches Johnson and Jones did a fine job with the boys.
